

David M. Troendle, MD

University of Texas Southwestern/Children's Health

Dr. David M. Troendle is a therapeutic endoscopist and pediatric gastroenterologist at Children's Health in Dallas, Texas and an associate professor in the Department of Pediatrics at UT Southwestern Medical Center. His clinical interests are advanced endoscopic procedures in children including EUS, ERCP and luminal stricture management as well as pancreatic disorders and pancreatic cancer. Currently, he serves as the director of endoscopy at Children's Health. He works in the Pediatric Pancreatic Disorders Program at Children's Health where he manages children with a variety of pancreatic disorders including pancreatitis, pancreatic insufficiency and pancreatic cancer. He serves on the Endoscopy and Procedure's Committee of NASPGHAN and is an associated editor for the Journal of Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition, the official journal of both NASPGHAN and ESPGHAN.